Defining the Precautionary Principle

Science and Environmental Health Network (SEHN) has been integral in promoting the precautionary principle as it relates to biotechnology and food engineering

  Quote from Christine Todd Whitman (Bush's designated EPA Administrator) from "The New Uncertainty Principle"

- Protecting Public Health and the Environment: Implementing the Precautionary Principle, Edited by Carolyn Raffensperger and Joel Tickner.

- The Precautionary Principle, Prepared for the NGO Biotechnology Briefing for White House Officials, June 30, 1999

- Defining Public Interest Research, SEHN et al., June 1999

- A Paradigm Shift: Rethinking Environmental Decision Making and Risk Assessment, Paper presented Risk Analysis Policy Association Meeting, Virginia, March 6, 1997 by Carolyn Raffensperger and Peter deFur

- The Precautionary Principle is Coherent, ISIS Paper October 31, 2000

- Modern Environmental Protection -- Part I, Rachel's Environment & Health Weekly #704, July 21, 2000

- Science and the Precautionary Principle, Science, May 12 2000: 979-981

- Dr. Edward Groth III, Senior Scientist at Consumers Union, presents a discussion paper for the US Codex Delegation, Science.

Historical Precedence

Biotechnology in the Global Economy: Science and the Precautionary Principle
Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University
September 22-23, 2000,

- Click here for the website that includes: highlights, photos and RealAudio from the Plenary Sessions and Parallel Sessions
- Abstracts and viewpoints from the meeting

Workshop on Globalization and Democratic Governance

- Description and Purpose
- Agenda
- Participants
- Background Materials
- Case Studies
- Harmonization Project - June 15, 2000

Applications

- NEW The Cartegena Protocol on Biosafety: Applying the Precautionary Principle, Katherine Barrett, Ph.D., Science and Environmental Health Network and Eco-Research (Faculty of Law) University of Victoria, Canada

- The Precautionary Principle as Forecaring: Hopeful Work for the Environmental Health Movement, By Carolyn Raffensperger, Mount Alverno Conference Center, Redwood City, California, October 6-8, 2000

- 'Substantial Equivalence' And The Precautionary Principle: A Challenge To Risk Assessment, Andrew Apel, editor, AgBiotech Reporter

- Use and Abuse of the Precautionary Principle, Peter T. Saunders, Mathematics Department, King's College, London

- Summary of the Report of the Swedish Committee on New Guidelines on Chemicals Policy, June 5, 2000

- Applying the Precautionary Principle to Agricultural Biotechnology, Science and Environmental Health Network, March 2000
- Genetically Engineered Crops: Criteria for a Precautionary Approach, Networker Volume 4, #1, January, 1999
- Precautionary approach to risk assessment, Nature, November 25, 1999
- Uses of the Precautionary Principle in International Treaties and Agreements, Carolyn Raffensperger, October 1999

Commentary

Domestic

- In defense of the precautionary principle, Correspondence in Nature Biotechnology, Vol. 19, No. 9, pages 811-812, September 2001
- Implementing the precautionary principle, Viewpoint, Phillip B.C. Jones, Ph.D., J.D., Senior Patent Attorney, ZymoGenetics, Inc., Seattle, WA
- Precautionary Foolishness, By Marlo Lewis, Jr., Staff Director, Subcommittee on National Economic Growth, Natural Resources and Regulatory Affairs, U.S. House of Representatives, Speech to the Doctors for Disaster Preparedness, July 1, 2000
- Precautionary Principle Stalls Advances In Food Technology, Published by the Washington Legal Foundation, May 26, 2000
- Commentary on the Precautionary Principle, Ralph Blanchfield (Food Science, Food Technology & Food Law Consultant), February 6, 2000
- Precautionary principle stifles discovery, Commentary: Nature 400, 398 (1999), July 29, 1999
  - ...and can mean saying ‘yes’ to innovation, Commentary: Nature 401, 207 (1999), September 16, 1999
  - Sensible precautions make good science..., Commentary: Nature 401, 207 (1999), September 16, 1999

International

- The Services of the European Commission offer the following replies to the questions raised by the U.S. Codex Conference Room Document [re: the Precautionary Principle]
- How to Let Ordinary People in on the Future: Be careful, take... precautions, Le Monde Diplomatique, September 2000

- Comments from Representative Kucinich (OH), from the French Embassy meeting on the precautionary principle, July 2000

- Department of the Environment and Local Government, Ireland, Press Release -- Government approves precautionary environmental policy on GMOs, October 9, 1999
  - Full Report (pdf 142K)

- Biosafety and international trade: conflict or convergence?, Center for International Development at Harvard University, September 2, 1999

Other

- Our Planet Our Selves, Carolyn Raffensperger’s quest to make an ounce of prevention an international cause, Utne Reader, July 20, 2001